Good Work Ethics (规范)

When I was younger, about 14, I was already ready to work. My father was a dairy man and he had been working his entire life. For him, getting up at 5 a. m. and working a couple of hours before I went to school, and then 36 more after school until there was not enough 37 to see, were normal.

My father considered putting good work ethics in me to be very 38. He began to show me these, not through 39, but through his actions. He would not 40 a job until it was done. He 41 put his all into everything he did. 42, he showed me this not just in working, but in everything. Like when I was in soccer, I wanted to 43 a game once. and he explained to me—that I had made a 44 and that even if I just skipped one game, then I did not 45 to play the rest of the games.

So the day I started my first job at the age of 14, I was 46 to show my father that I could do it well, and that I was not going to 47. My entire 48 was to make my father proud of me. I knew that 49 I did, he would not say it in words, but he would show it. My first job was doing 50 for a company. As most of you know, construction is not an easy job, especially being so 51. When someone as young as I was started working, they would either 52 or get stronger. I got stronger. I worked the 53 I had been taught and I gave that day everything I had. In the end, my boss was impressed. He even called to tell my parents what a good worker I was, and my parents' eyes 54. From that day on I have worked every job to my full 55, because that day defined (explain the truth of) my life. It defined how I was going to work, and I will always stick to it.

四、阅读理解 (共 20 小题; 每小题 2 分, 满分 40 分)

第一节: 共 15 小题; 每小题 2 分, 共 30 分

“Mum, what does it mean when someone tells you that they have a skeleton (骨骼) in the closet?” Jessica asked. “A skeleton in the closet?” her mother paused thoughtfully, Well, it’s something that you would rather not have anyone else know about. For example, if in the past, someone in Dad’s family had been arrested for stealing a horse, it would be ‘a skeleton in his family’s closet’. He really wouldn’t want any neighbor to know about it.”

“Why pick on my family?” Jessica’s father said with anger. “Your family history isn’t so good, you know. Wasn’t you great - great grandfather a prisoner who was transported to Australia for his crimes?” “Yes, but people these days say that you are not a real Australian unless your ancestors arrived as prisoners.” “Gosh, sorry I asked. I think I understand now,” Jessica cut in before things grew worse.

After dinner, the house was very quiet. Jessica’s parents were still quite angry with each other. Her mother was ironing clothes and every now and then she glared at her husband, who hid behind his newspaper pretending to read. When she finished, she gathered the freshly pressed clothes in her arms and walked to Jessica’s closet. Just as she opened the door and reached in to hang a skirt, a bony arm stuck out from the dark depths and a bundle of white bones fell to the floor. Jessica’s mother sank into a faint, waking only when Jessica put a cold, wet cloth on her forehead. She looked up to see the worried faces of her husband and daughter.

“What happened? Where am I?” she asked. “You just destroyed the school’s skeleton, Mum,” explained Jessica. “I brought it home to help me with my health project. I meant to tell you, but it seemed that as soon as I mentioned skeletons and closets, it caused a problem between you and Dad.” Jessica looked in amazement as her parents began to laugh madly. “They’re both crazy,” she thought.

56. According to Jessica’s mother, “a skeleton in the closet” means _____.

- A. a family honor
- B. a family treasure
- C. a family story
- D. a family secret

57. What can we learn about some Australian’s ancestors from Paragraph 2?

- A. They were the earliest people living in Australia.
- B. They were brought to Australia as prisoners.
- C. They were involved in some crimes in Australia.
- D. They were not regarded as criminals in their days.

58. Why did Jessica bring a skeleton home?

- A. She needed it for her school task.
- B. She planned to keep it for fun.
- C. She was curious about it.
- D. She intended to scare her parents.

59. Jessica’s parents laughed madly at the end of the story probably because _____.

- A. they were crazy
- B. they were overexcited
- C. they both thought they had won the quarrel
- D. they realized their misunderstanding

You Are What You Eat

Genetic engineering is the scientific change of the genetic material in a living organism. It allows scientists to identify specific genes, to remove them from an organism's chromosomes (染色体), improve them, analyze them, and possibly clone them, and to then reinsert the changed gene into the original organism, or a completely different organism. Unlike traditional breeding (繁殖), where a desired quality would be bred within the same species, genetic engineering can insert desired ones into organisms of different species. Wow...Did you catch that?

Genetic engineering creates many positive contributions to agriculture. For example, by genetically engineered (GE) foods, anti-cancer agents, minerals and vitamins can be increased. Improved taste, shelf life, and better transport are all possible. Also, GE plants can increase pest and bacterial resistance, therefore, making the food safe for consumers.

But some argue that the possible negative effects outweigh the positives, and critics are starting to voice their concerns. Unlike Europe, in the United States labeling is not required on genetically engineered foods or on foods that contain genetically engineered products. Most Americans do not realize that they are, in fact, eating GE foods.

The public is also concerned about the unknown health risks. With limited understanding of genes, scientists cannot predict possible effects. Because most genes introduced into GE plants come from sources not introduced into the human body, it is impossible to know if they will cause reactions. Moreover, due to the lack of labeling if allergies develop, it will be extremely difficult to find the origin of them.

There is also a major moral question in many minds. For many, the conflict is not if it is safe or not, but it disturbs them because it is unnatural and unnecessary. We are currently producing one and a half times the amount of food needed to feed the world, yet one in seven people are starving. GE food is unnecessary, and fails to address the root of hunger. Many believe that the only people who will benefit are the corporations that produce it.

Scientists cannot foresee the possible effects of GE foods, yet we eat them every day without even knowing it. We already have enough food, so why create more that could be potentially harmful to us, to the Earth and to all wildlife? I think that the benefits are amazing, but until we know for sure how these foods will affect us, they are not worth the risk.

63. According to the passage, traditional breeding is different from genetic engineering in that_____.

- A. traditional breeding takes place within the same species
- B. traditional breeding changes the genes in different species
- C. traditional breeding changes the genes in the same species
- D. traditional breeding is more scientific

64. "The lack of labeling" in Paragraph 4 indicates_____.

- A. it is currently possible to find the origins of some allergies
- B. information concerning gene sources is unavailable to customers
- C. scientists try to hide potential dangers from customers
- D. the US government is responsible for GE food

65. What is the author's attitude towards genetic engineering?

- A. Welcoming.
- B. Unconcerned.
- C. Disapproving.
- D. Optimistic.

66. According to Paragraph 5, GE food is unnecessary because_____.

- A. customers will benefit from GE food
- B. we're now producing more food than before
- C. there are potential dangers in producing GE food
- D. it won't help solve the problem of hunger in the world

Certainly, a well-rounded education is the foundation from which all of us spring forth. I am grateful to the many incredible teachers who have inspired me to do greater things, and have fired my enthusiasm for everlasting learning!

I have also been honored to have the most amazing teachers in all of my children's lives. These are extraordinary people who not only teach our children, but love them, challenge them, and provide an environment where a child learns how to learn.

But, sometimes I wonder if the outline of our educational plan is lacking something. I watched the movie Easy A with my older daughter. The main character's parents were loving, supportive, and built great confidence in their daughter and developed her ability to handle her own problems.

There was a scene where the mother was speaking to the younger child and he announced that he received an "A" on his spelling test. She replied, "That's great, honey, but everything has spell check these days." It was funny...but TRUE! I don't mean that we shouldn't teach our children how to spell, but maybe some of our time should be spent educating them about the dangers of posting things on Facebook.

Maybe we might want to spend time showing them how real life works---the credit card isn' t free money---you will have to pay it back at sometime. Oh, and get this---they charge you for borrowing that money. Perhaps, we should spend some time on interpersonal relationships. I worry that our kids do not know how to relate to one another.

Choosing a career is a daunting task. My daughter is in her second year in college and has changed her major twice. It' s not that she didn' t know what she wanted to do. What she “wanted to do” and the degree she chose did not match.

I have learned many college students do not know what they want to do because they haven' t seen what it looks like in the real world. Being a journalist in the real world looks very different from writing stories. Maybe if we spent some time exposing them to real life experience---maybe two or three courses in areas of interest in high school that give them a “feel” for what that particular field would look like, they might be better prepared. I do not know the solution, but it seems that it should at least be a topic of discussion.

67. Why does the author mention the movie Easy A?

- A. To prove the importance of book learning.
- B. To lead to the topic he is going to talk about.
- C. To show the parents' ignorance of spelling.
- D. To share with the readers his feeling about the movie.

68. The author believes that _____.

- A. courses in areas of interest in high schools will benefit students
- B. parents and school should be consistent in education
- C. his daughter is smart enough to make her own choice
- D. students need to focus on the skills in learning

69. The underlined word “daunting” in Paragraph 6 probably means _____.

- A. rewarding
- B. specific
- C. discouraging
- D. regular

70. What is mainly discussed in the passage?

- A. Life experience is of greater importance than school education.
- B. What students learn in school should be practiced in life.
- C. Schools should prepare students for the real life.
- D. Students should spend more time discussing practical problems.

第二节（共5小题；每小题2分，共10分）

根据短文内容，从短文后的七个选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。

Roger Sperry and Robert Ornstein of the California Institute of Technology, Nobel Prize winners, discovered that the human brain has two sides, and each side has different work to do.

The left side of the brain controls language and number and it analyses and reasons. 71 It controls our appreciation of music and our sense of rhythm. It is also the right side of our brain which daydreams.

Leonardo da Vinci was the great painter and sculptor. He was also an architect, a scientist and an inventor! 72 When he invented machines he used both his imaginative ability and his analytical ability.

73 Albert Einstein enjoyed art, playing the violin and sailing. Indeed, Einstein said his scientific discoveries grew from his imagination rather than from analysis, reason and language. He said that written and spoken words were not important in his thinking. The story goes that Einstein was daydreaming one summer' s day while sitting on a hill. He imagined that he was riding on sunbeams to the far distance of the universe. Then he found that he had returned to the sun. So he realized that the universe must curve (弯曲). 74 He then used the left side of his brain to apply analysis, number and reason. And finally he used language to explain it.

Traditional education in schools encourages us to use the left side of our brains. Language, number, analysis and reason are given more importance in our schools than imagination and daydreaming. Why don't we give more value to visual thinking? Why jump on one foot if we have two perfectly good legs!

75 We need to use our imagination to think of solutions to problems and to enjoy emotional and artistic experiences. And we need to be logical and to be able to analyze and organize in order to survive day by day.

- A. He got this idea by using his imagination.
- B. We benefit by thinking creatively .
- C. We all need both sides of our brain.
- D. He was considered crazy for his strange ideas.
- E. Great scientists and great artists are similar.
- F. The right side controls our imagination and our understanding of space.
- G. He used both sides of his brain within each activity.

听力部分录音稿

Text 1

W: What do you usually do on Sundays?

M: I go to church in the morning, work in the garden in the afternoon and read the newspaper after supper.

Text 2

W: Excuse me, could you please tell me how to get to the City Library?

M: I'm sorry. I'm not a local here, but if you cross the street, you can see a police station next to the supermarket. I am sure they will help you.

Text 3

M: Hi. How was your weekend in Australia?

W: Oh, I didn't go there.

M: Really? Why not?

W: Well, because of the weather. I had a ticket for a flight on Friday, but the airport was closed because it was foggy.

Text 4

W: How much do I owe you?
M: 19 pounds.
W: Here is 20. Keep the change.
M: Thank you. Please remember to take all of your belongings.

Text 5

M: Hi Jane. Have you tried the new restaurant in town yet?
W: Yes, I went there last night with my mother.
M: What did you think of it? I may be going this weekend.
W: It took ages for the food to arrive. But when it finally did arrive, I have to say that it certainly was worth waiting for.

Text 6

M: Excuse me, do you know how this works?
W: Yes. Put the clothes inside... shut the door... the money goes in here, then when the machine starts you have to put the laundry soap in through here.
M: Is that all?
W: Yes, you don't have to do anything else until the machine stops.
M: Thank you.

Text 7

W: Your right leg is bleeding? What seems to be the problem?
M: I fell off the roof while I was fixing my house. My left arm hit the ground first.
W: Does it hurt?
M: Yes, and I also have some pain in my back.
W: You should have an X-ray so that I can see if you have any broken bones. But before that, I will clean your wound and put some medicine on it.
M: Thank you doctor.

W: Are you a German?
M: Yeah.
W: Why don't you speak German?
M: Oh, I can, but my mother is an American, so I can also speak English.
W: I want to study English. Can we be language partners? I can teach you Chinese.
M: Good idea. I'd like that.
W: When will we begin? Today or tomorrow?
M: Next Thursday would be better.
W: That sounds great.

Welcome to Elwood Food Market. There are three large food halls here.
Turn left at the entrance for Hall 1. Here you can buy many different vegetables. Choose the vegetables yourself. Use the plastic bags and then pay for everything at the checkout desk. This hall also has fresh quality fish, straight from the sea.
In Hall 2, you can find freshly baked cakes and bread. And next to this hall there is a café. You can get sandwiches, snacks and drinks all day in the café, and also breakfast until 11:30.
Hall 3 is the biggest hall and sells cheese, eggs and meat. In this hall there is also a special

Italian shop. You can buy different kinds of pasta and they make pizza daily. At 55p a piece, it's not expensive. Children will love our new playroom. It's at the end of the hall next to the payphones. You can let them play there while you shop.

W: Hello. Sophie's Bakery. May I help you?

M: I'd like to place an order for a cake. Do you make special order cakes?

W: We do. What's the special occasion?

M: It's for my grandparents' 50th wedding anniversary.

W: I see. First, you should choose a cake you like, tell us what you want written on it, and then we'll get started on it. We have various cakes, such as cheese cakes, fruit cakes and also ice cream cakes.

M: They all sound yummy. I'd like a fruit cake.

W: What size? 8, 10 or 12 inches?

M: I'll choose the biggest one. Also, my grandparents first met and fell in love on a ship at sea, so is it possible to put a small candy ship on top of the cake?

W: Certainly! We can add more than one if you want.

M: No, thanks. One is enough. Could you still write "Happy 50th Wedding Anniversary" on it?

W: No problem.

M: Is it possible to have it delivered?

W: Yes, but you have to pay 5 pounds for delivery.

M: Excellent.

W: The address, sir?

M: It's 75 Tonbridge Road.

W: How can we contact you, sir?

M: My name is John Carter. My phone number is 6093874.

W: Mr. Carter, 6093874.

M: Yes. Can you deliver the cake to my house at around 11 o'clock on May 12th, next Saturday?

W: No problem, sir. The cake is 27 pounds, plus delivery fee. The total is 32 pounds. Do you want to pay by credit card now or by cash at the time of the delivery?

M: By cash.

W: OK, sir. Do you have any other requirements?

M: No thanks. I look forward to seeing the cake.

W: Bye, sir.

M: Bye.
