(Text 1)

M: It's Friday already. Jim's supposed to come back today. Why isn't he here yet?

W: Oh, he decided to put off his return date. He'll be back the day after tomorrow.

(Text 2)

W: Sir, does the rent cover all the expenses, including the use of electricity and heating?

M: Yes, but you have to pay extra for parking.

(Text 3)

W: How was your flight, George?

M: Thanks for picking me up. I had a sound sleep during the flight, just like at home.

W: No wonder you look so refreshed. We can head for the company directly.

(Text 4)

M: I'm starving, have you got lunch ready?

W: Not yet, I have been working at my desk all morning and I'm too tired to cook.

M: That's OK. We can order takeout food.

(Text 5)

M: Guess what? I'll start my new job next month.

W: That's great. Congratulations.

M: Thank you for always supporting me.

(Text 6)

W: Nothing. I'm just taking classes in art.

M: Is it painting class?

W: Not really. I'm learning how to write Chinese characters.

M: You are very smart and perseverant. Speaking Chinese is hard, let alone writing Chinese characters with a writing brush.

W: It does take a lot of practice. My teacher is in his late fifties. He never loses temper easily for my slow progress, though and he makes it fun to study.

M: Will you show me a little?

W: Not until. I'm better at it. I just started last month.

(Text 7)

M: Hello, this is customer service. What can I do for you?

W: Hi, I recently returned an office chair. I'm just calling to ask you when I will be able to get my money back.

M: When did you return it?•

W: A week ago.

M: According to the rule, our company will pay back the money within five days of us receiving the returned item.

W: Oh, I see. Have you already received the returned goods?

M: Just a minute, please. Let me check. Oh, it arrived two days ago. I'll arrange for you as soon as possible. (Text 8)

M: Molly, tell us about your business.

W: Well, I sell women fashion clothes designed by myself through a website.

M: Did you have any sort of training in design?

W: No one taught me. As you can see, I'm very tall and I couldn't find clothes that fit me in ordinary shops, so I started making my own.

M: How did you get started in this business at such a young age?

W: When. I was in university, some classmates got to know I made my own clothes. They liked my styles so much that they asked me if I would make clothes for them. So I started my business at that time.

M: Really, that's unbelievable! I know your business grew rapidly after graduation. Do you intend to open a physical store?

W: No, I'll keep things online to keep cost down, but I will add more styles for men and kids.

M: Wish you success, Molly.

(Text 9)

W: Carl how did your driving theory test go?

M: I prepared it as much as I could. Yesterday, right after the test, they printed out my result. It was such a relief to pass.

W: I knew you could do it. Congratulations!

M: Thanks. You know it was my second try. I was afraid of a second failure.

W: Anyway, good job for passing it. Now, all you have to do next is your road test. Have you had any lessons yet?

M: Yes, I really enjoyed it and I can't wait for my next session.

W: How's your instructor? Is strict?

M: He is very understanding. This time I'll need to, make a lot more practice and hopefully it will be successful the first time.

W: Well, good luck.

(Text 10)

M: Hello, welcome to the lab! It will be your workplace from now on. Please remember some rules I explain to you today. My name is Tony. I am your guide for this lab tour. As you may have been told already, there is a safety meeting once a week. I expect you to know the baby rules. There will be a brief test every two weeks. How you perform in this test will be noted in your personnel file and could affect your salary. The most important information I want to give you now is about safety and cleanliness. First of all, the only acceptable shoes are sports shoes; don't wear jackets, necklaces or loose belts; you should wear full-protected clothing in the lab. Second, everything must be kept clean. Wash your hands before handling any equipment. This is extremely important. Tools and jars should be kept absolutely clean and avoid any pollution. OK. Any questions? .

Mr. Zhang is a highly accomplished painter. His artworks have been exhibited worldwide, earning him recognition and praise. In addition, Mr. Zhang actively supports various charitable causes. He has established a foundation that focuses on providing educational opportunities for disabled children.

第二节

One possible version:

When Stephanie arrived, Dustin sat in his chair and crossed his arms. His father introduced himself to Stephanie and apologized to her on Dustin's behalf. Dustin kept his face blank. Then his father turned to Dustin. “Dustin, don't you have something to say?” Dustin said nothing but remained silent. His father, whose eyes suddenly narrowed, said firmly, “Dustin. Now!” Walking to Stephanie, Dustin handed her a closed envelope, “I'm sorry I took your wallet. Here's your money.” Stephanie looked at him with wide brown eyes and gently said, “I forgive you.” Astonished, Dustin stared at her in disbelief.

Dustin stayed on the track team, and was never referred to this office again. Through ongoing conversations, he was eventually able to accept and even like himself. Stephanie had shown him the way. By and by, he gained the courage to help a classmate who needed to turn his life around. Soft-spoken Stephanie turned out to be the bravest one of all.
