【参考范文】 One possible version:

It will not be long before I become an adult. At the thought of becoming an adult, not only do I feel excited, but I am also a bit nervous, for with growing up comes growing responsibility.

As for my study, I long to be admitted into a leading university, using what I have learned to serve society. When it comes to my career, I will take up teaching in a remote village to help the kids who have no access to books.

In short, adulthood means hope as well as challenges. I will embrace whatever will become of me and live a meaningful life.

【参考范文】 One possible version:

I watched as the spear took off. My heart quickened constantly as the javelin drew a beautiful curve in the azure sky. "31 yards!" the teacher's astonished voice hit my eardrum directly, making all the sounds fade into total silence. Contrary to their previous laughs, my classmates looked at me with adoration. It was the best throw that put me to the top of the list. The teacher announced excitedly, "If it hadn't been for the Javelin, the skinny boy who named Euenge Orowitz would never have found his talent," When the teacher decided to send it home with me as a gift, I gave him a big hug, shrieking with excitement.

That night I took the javelin home with me. I seized it desperately as if it was my lifeline. No sooner had the sports meeting ended than I was chosen to be a member of the track team. Since then, I have participated in various races and gotten excellent scores in the javelin competition. Although I'm a professional javelin thrower now, I'll never forget that sunny afternoon in 1953, which let me approach my own talent. If you're still trapped in the worry of your lack of confidence, let the thing go and try to challenge yourself right now, like my first flying javelin in the azure sky.
