三、One possible version:

Dear Jack,

I'm so glad you're coming to Beijing during the winter holidays.

While you are in Beijing, I suggest that you visit the Capital Museum, as I know you are interested in the history and culture of Beijing. The museum houses exhibitions of old Beijing and family life in the Hutong. Besides, lectures on Chinese folk arts and crafts will be given at the Capital Museum during the winter holidays. It is a great chance to know more about the long history and the brilliant culture.

I'm sure the Capital Museum is worth a visit. If there is anything else I could do, please let me know.

Yours,

Li Hua

听力原文:

Text 1

M: I can't find my pen anywhere. It was on the desk with my book a moment ago.

W: Look, here it is. You left it by the phone.

Text 2

M: Excuse me, do you have time to help take a picture of us?

W: Oh, I'm sorry. I've got to catch a bus.

M: That's OK.

Text 3

W: The school café is planning to add something new to the menu. They need our ideas!

M: Really? Maybe they can add more sandwiches and salads.

W: But I suggest noodles.

Text 4

M: Mom, this is going to take forever! The program Animal World will be on in 20 minutes. It's my favorite program. You know I can't miss it!

W: I know, honey. But we have to wait in line to pay for these things we need.

M: You promised we'd be home in time.

W: Be a little patient, Jack. We'll get out of here soon.

Text 5

W: Harry, guess what? I've just received an email from Lily. She and Peter are coming down to see us this weekend.

M: Oh, that's good news! We haven't seen them for ages.

W: Yes. The last time we met them was when we got married three years ago.

M: Did Lily mention how long they'll stay?

W: About one week.

M: Great! I can't wait to show them around our new house.

W: Me too. We haven't had any guests since we moved in here. If the weather is fine, we can have a party in the garden.

M: Good idea. I'll go to the market tomorrow to buy all the things we'll need.

Text 6

M: Good morning, everyone. I'm pleased to be here to give a talk. I'm from Canada, and I've been living in Thailand for eight years. I noticed that most English lessons here in schools focus only on reading and writing, so a lot of people can't understand and speak well in English. And I'd like to do something about it. My idea is simple: I want to teach people how to understand and speak English like a native speaker. Different from broadcast English programs, I design special fun English programs based on the computer and use them to teach words and expressions we use in the real life. I talk in a relaxed style on a number of interesting topics, and I share personal stories from my real life. Now, I have over 200 units on our website. I make a new unit every week that you can listen to on your computer anytime you want. My materials are from English movies, TV shows, and real-life conversations. I hope people will use the materials to practice English every day. I'm sure that your English will improve a lot.

Text 7

W: Good afternoon, Housing Department! May I help you?
 M: Hello. I'm calling about the houses you advertised.
 W: Yes, what kind of houses are you interested in?
 M: I'm interested in a two-bedroom one. Do you have any spare houses?
 W: Yes, we do. How much do you want to pay?
 M: About $400 a month.
 W: Good! When do you need it?
 M: Early in May.
 W: OK. How long do you want the house?
 M: One year.
 W: Great! Actually, we have several houses in your demand now. You can have a look if possible.
 M: Sounds good. Can I come over tomorrow morning?
 W: Sure. What time would you like to come?
 M: How about 10:00 a.m.?
 W: OK. May I have your name, please?
 M: Tecla. That's T-E-C-L-A.
 W: T-E-C-L-A. And your phone number?
 M: 627935.
 W: 627935. Thanks for calling, Tecla. See you tomorrow.
